WELCOME TO PINSTRIPE

Named after the unofficial uniform of the Prohibition era, Pinstripe is a quintessential speakeasy amidst Ubud's rice fields. We craft liquid poetry that whispers, hints, and beckons to the curious. Here lies an after-dark experience that goes against the grain of what most watering holes in the village have to offer.

The elegance of a bygone era blends seamlessly with contemporary glamour. Glass is the canvas. Cocktails are our masterpieces.

Top shelf spirits are merged with time-honoured Indonesian nectars to take your senses on an unforgettable journey.

Sincerely,
The Pinstripe Team

House Rules

The Code of Conduct

I Unexpected rendezvous. You found us.
A speakeasy going against the grain of Ubud's traditional watering holes. Only tell those that are worthy.

II Elegance of a bygone era.
The 1920s had dress standards. So do we. So, presumably, do you.

III Ask questions. Order curiously.
Point at something that intrigues you. Our bartenders will take it from there.

IV Sipping is not simply tasting.
Each glass paints a vibrant narrative of Bali – ask our bartenders for the inside scoop.

V Your phone belongs in your pocket.
Nobody interesting is on it right now. They're all in here.

VI Patience is a virtue.
Good things are being done to your drink. We promise it's worth the wait.

VII Always toast. No exceptions.
Even if you're drinking alone. Especially if you're drinking alone.

VIII Square dealing.
Treat the room the way you want to be treated… the team, patrons, furniture. Respect is non-negotiable. No roughhousing.

IX Profound appreciation for the finer things in life.
You might meet people that share your mantra. Embrace this and share a drink.

Harlem

Where the Journey Began

Before Bali, there was Harlem. A world of jazz, art, and cultural awakening where Miguel Covarrubias rose to prominence among the visionaries of the Harlem Renaissance.

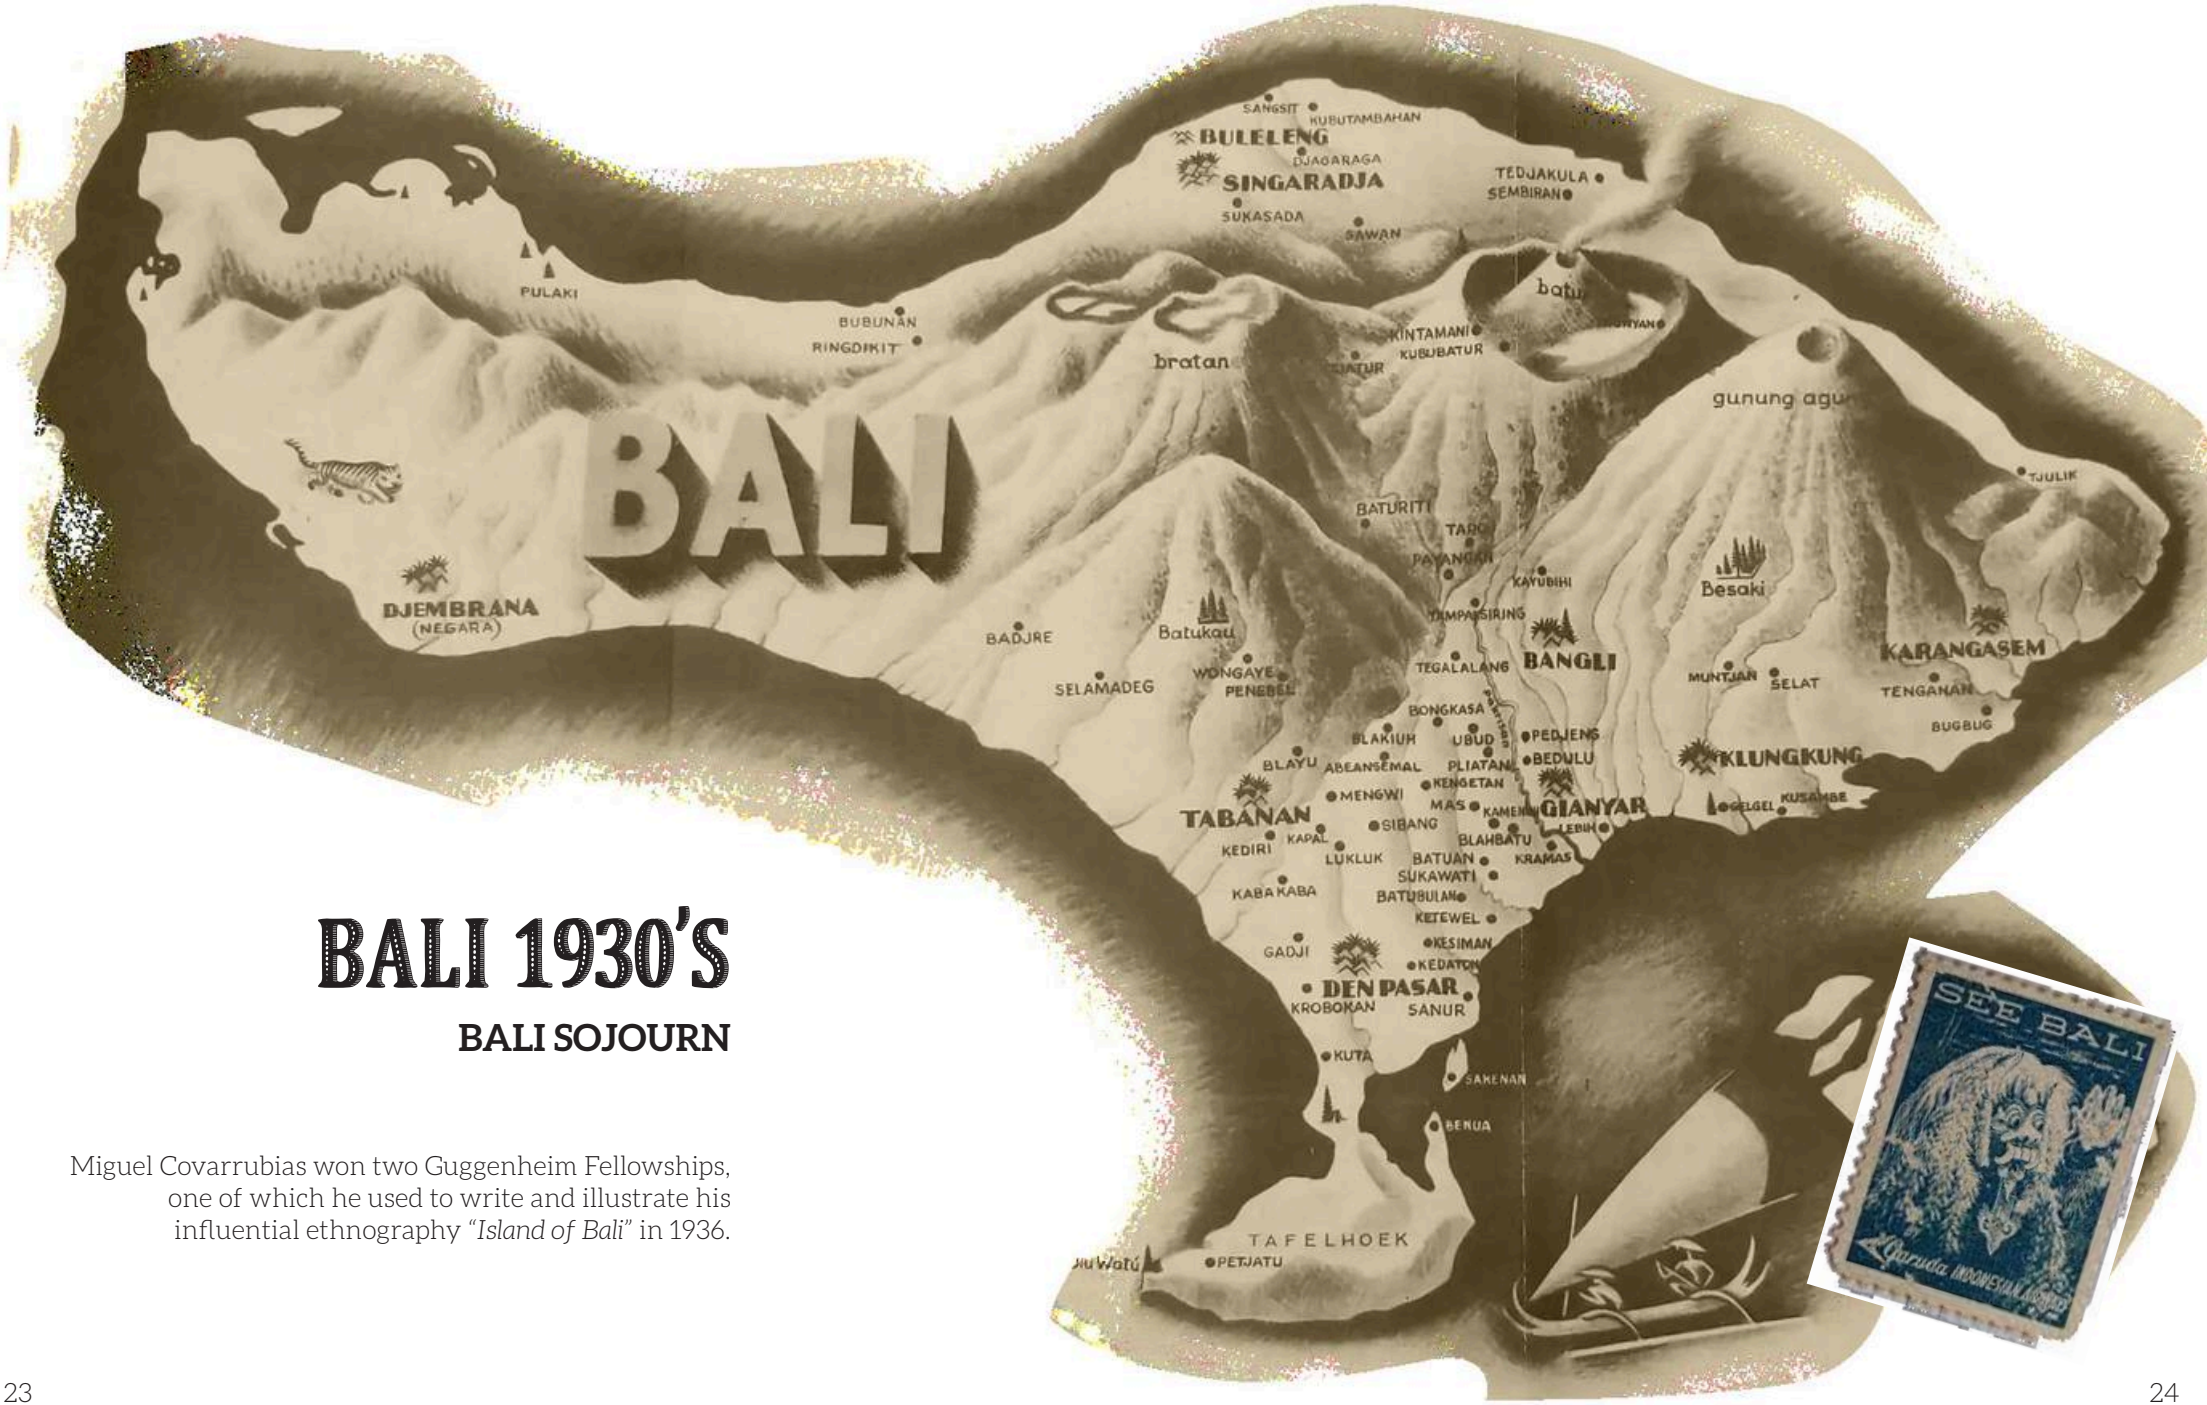
Here, he learned to see beyond appearances, capturing the spirit and stories that defined an era.

Bali

Where the Journey Found Meaning

In 1930, a honeymoon brought Covarrubias to Bali. What he discovered was more than a destination it was a living masterpiece.

Enchanted by its rituals, artistry, and enduring traditions, he found a profound source of inspiration that would shape his most celebrated work and leave an indelible mark on the island's story.



BALI 1930'S

BALI SOJOURN

Miguel Covarrubias won two Guggenheim Fellowships, one of which he used to write and illustrate his influential ethnography "Island of Bali" in 1936.

THE DANCER

Rosa Rolanda, an American artist and dancer, spent her honeymoon in Bali in the 1930s with her husband, Miguel Covarrubias. Her time in Bali significantly influenced her artistic work and the couple collaborated on various projects documenting and celebrating Balinese culture. Their shared experiences and creative synergy in Bali left a lasting imprint on the artistic community in Bali.

THE COMPOSER
230K

Miso Caramel Bulleit Bourbon, Maraschino, Bigallet China-China, Pandan

Colin McPhee, a Canadian composer and ethnomusicologist, profoundly influenced the study and appreciation of Balinese music in the 1930s. His extensive research and immersive experiences in Bali led to a deep understanding of its traditional gamelan music. He formed a close friendship with Miguel Covarrubias where Covarrubias' illustrations and ethnographic work in Bali often intersected with McPhee's musical explorations.

THE PRINCE

Courvoisier VSOP, Cocchi Storico, Banana Peel Campari, Jackfruit, Wormwood Smoke

Tjokorda Agung Soekawati, a prominent Balinese prince in the 1930s, played a crucial role in revitalizing Balinese arts and culture. As a member of Bali's royal family, he supported the preservation of traditional dance, music, and rituals during a cultural renaissance. His collaboration with Miguel Covarrubias promoted Balinese culture globally through Covarrubias' illustrations and writings.

BUMBLEBEE

Singleton 12, Lavender, Pistachio, Cocchi Rosa, Passionfruit, Mango, Jasmine, Orange

I Ketut Marya, a Balinese dancer and cultural ambassador, played a pivotal role in the 1930s Bali arts scene. Renowned for his mastery of traditional Balinese dance and music, his collaborations with Miguel Covarrubias were instrumental in showcasing Balinese dance and music to a global audience, leaving a lasting impact on the cultural exchange between Bali and the Western world during that era.

THE PRIMITIVIST
230K

Tanqueray No. TEN, Coconut Rum, Campari, Pineapple, Passion Fruit, Pandan, Lemongrass, Soy Milk Clarified

Walter Spies, a German artist and painter, was instrumental in popularizing Balinese culture during the 1930s. His deep understanding and artistic interpretations of Balinese arts, alongside collaborations with Miguel Covarrubias, helped introduce Bali's rich cultural heritage to the global stage. Their partnership contributing to Bali's cultural renaissance and fostering international appreciation for its artistic traditions.

"No feast is complete in Bali without music and elaborate dramatic and dance performances"

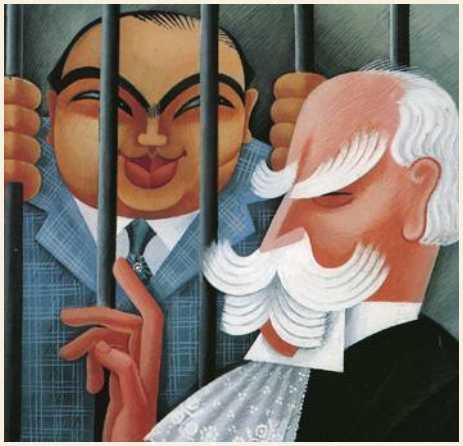
Al Capone a.k.a Scarface, was a notorious gangster of the 1920s. His reign during Prohibition saw him control much of the illegal liquor distribution in New York, earning him immense wealth and power. Miguel Covarrubias immortalized him in caricatures that highlighted Capone, intertwining the world of organized crime with the cultural narrative of the Harlem Renaissance.

PROHIBITION ERA



Pinstripe was a popular fashion style during Prohibition, favoured by those who wanted to be noticed. It was worn by film stars, musicians, and notably, gangsters like Al Capone.
