

Joe's Texas BBQ

Koh Lanta

The smoke starts rising over Koh Lanta long before sunrise. Down a quiet lane near Phra Ae Beach, the scent of burning wood and black pepper carries a stark contrast to the surrounding palm trees: authentic Central Texas style BBQ in tropical Thailand.

Story Joe's Texas BBQ began when Joe and his wife, Peace, set out to bring low & slow pitmaster traditions to the island. Building custom smokers and dailing in wood fires to handle the humid coastal air, Joe spent years perfecting a classic Texas technique—smoking prime meats for up to 12 hours until a deep peppery bark and rich smoke ring developed.

Beyond the tender waygu brisket, fall-off-the-bone ribs, and house-made sausages, what turned this spot into an island icon is its atmosphere. Set in a laid-back, open-air garden, Peace greets every table like family while Joe steps away from the pit to swap stories with guests over cold beers. It's a classic Texas smokehouse experience built with warm Thai hospitality.
