

Copenhagen, a chestnut stallion, became Arthur Wellesley, First Duke of Wellington's favourite horse. Named after one of Wellington's early victories, Copenhagen was present at the Duke's greatest victory, the Battle of Waterloo in 1815.

Copenhagen may have been a little difficult to manage but he was a great war horse. He stayed with the Duke in retirement and was given a funeral with full military honours when he died in 1836. Copenhagen was buried at the Duke's country estate at Stratfield Saye in Hampshire.

There may have been many faster horses, no doubt many handsomer, but for bottom and endurance I never saw his fellow.

Duke of Wellington
