

Nicholas Carter (1816-1896) took up residence at the Carter family home 'Spring Bank' in 1862. 'Spring Bank' was a large villa style property that stood in the heart of Harrogate.

In 1860 he and three others created the Victoria Park Company with a vision to join together the two ancient villages of High and Low Harrogate. Elected as Improvement Commissioner in 1877, he became Chairman of the Board in 1883, and supported Richard Ellis' scheme for Harrogate leading to its charter of incorporation in 1884.

Elected as Harrogate's first full Mayor on 9th April 1884, Nicholas was closely connected to both the Harrogate Gas Company and the Harrogate Water Company and he took great interest in Harrogate Cottage Hospital, to which he was a generous benefactor.

Following his death in 1896 'Spring Bank' was purchased by Frederick Gordon, Chairman of 'The Frederick Hotel Company', and in 1900 the Hotel Majestic was opened.
