

THE CELLAR BELFAST CASTLE

Set on the slopes of Cave Hill Country Park, Belfast Castle is a talisman for the city with a commanding view from 120 metres above the heart of Belfast.

In 1862, the third Marquis of Donegall, a descendant of the Chichester family, decided to build a new castle within his deer park, situated on the side of Cave Hill in what is now north Belfast. The castle was finished in 1870 and cost far more than the £11,000 set aside by the Marquis.

The castle remained with the family for many years, before they eventually presented it and the surrounding estate to the city of Belfast in 1934.

Today the Cellar Restaurant uses the finest local ingredients to produce a locally inspired menu with something for everyone!
