WE ARE THE 40 THIEVES

CRAZY LOU

Crazy Lou is a fierce and unpredictable force within the 40 Thieves. An Irish immigrant, she was born into hardship and quickly learned that the only way to survive the streets of Manhattan was to outwit and outfight everyone around her. Lou is known for her wild temperament and her knack for pulling off impossible schemes with a mixture of charm and ferocity. While her nickname reflects her explosive nature, beneath the madness lies a sharp mind that has helped the 40 Thieves out of tight spots more than once. Her loyalty to the gang is unwavering, but she's feared just as much as she is respected.

BILLY McGLORY

Billy McGlory is a smooth-talking hustler with the gift of the gab. Born to Irish parents in Five Points, Billy was raised among thieves and con men, picking pockets before he could even walk properly. He rose to power as one of the heads of the 40 Thieves by keeping his hands clean while manipulating others into doing his dirty work. He's a man of charm and deception, with a flair for theatrics, always knowing how to talk himself out of trouble. Billy sees the world as one big game of cards, and he's always holding the winning hand.

ROSANNA PEERS

Rosanna Peers - The matriarch of crime and the true power behind the 40 Thieves, Rosanna Peers runs a dive bar that serves as the gang's headquarters. She's a mastermind, with a heart as cold as the streets she controls. Born into poverty, Rosanna clawed her way up through the ranks by turning her modest grocery store into a den of vice. Her sharp business acumen and ruthless nature make her a force to be reckoned with. While she may seem like a simple tavern keeper to outsiders, everyone in the neighbourhood knows better than to cross her.

EDWARD COLEMAN

The ruthless leader of the 40 Thieves, Edward Coleman is feared by both his enemies and his own men. A cruel and violent man, Coleman is infamous for his unforgiving nature and quick temper. Born to Irish immigrants, Coleman grew up fighting his way through the streets, eventually taking over the gang by force. His greatest crime, however, was the murder of his wife, which eventually led to his downfall. Despite his violent tendencies, Coleman was cunning, organised, and ran the gang like a military operation, demanding obedience from all who followed him.

LIAM "THE ACE" FITZGERALD

A gambler and master con artist who has the uncanny ability to turn any situation in his favour. Born in Ireland but raised in New York, Liam found himself drawn to the underworld after witnessing the lavish lifestyle of criminals who seemed to have it all. He joined the 40 Thieves and quickly became known for his talent at cards, his ability to cheat the best players, and his knack for always landing on his feet no matter how bad the odds. He's quick with a joke, but behind the laughter is a cold-hearted opportunist.

MICKEY "THE HAMMER" O'SULLIVAN

The muscle of the 40 Thieves, known for his size and brutality. He earned his nickname from his favourite method of dealing with enemiesâ€"a swift blow with his trusty hammer. Born in the Irish slums of Five Points, Mickey grew up in a world of violence and quickly learned that might often makes right. Though not the smartest of the gang, he's fiercely loyal and will defend the 40 Thieves with his life. Beneath the rough exterior, there's a certain softness for his fellow gang members, though he'd never admit it.
