

THE GEORGE CHILDRENS MENU

let's eat
serving every day

FUN FACT!

St. George the patron saint of England, never visited England! Not only was he not from England (Cappadocia, Turkey!), it's likely he never even set foot on English soil either. The connection with the country comes from King Richard I who, when on his crusades, purportedly placed his army under the protection of St George.

This is also why St George's cross is on the English flag: St George was traditionally depicted carrying or wearing a red cross on white background, and King Richard adopted it in his honour. But England doesn't actually own the design of its flag. An 'annual tribute' for the use of the flag used to be paid to the Italian city of Genoa, but those payment stopped around 250 years ago, with some in the city asking for them to be backdated!

ALPHABET GAME

As a group, choose a category, such as animals, countries, singers, or "people our family knows." One family member starts the game by naming a person/thing from that category that starts with the letter "A." Then the next person names a person/thing that starts with the letter "B," the next person finds something for the letter "C," and so on

CREATE A STORY

One person starts a story with one sentence. They can use a traditional story format ("Once upon a time, there was a huge bear...") or something completely original ("A woman carrying a large cake was walking down the street..."). Go around the table, and have each person add a sentence to the story. If the kids are old enough, pass a piece of paper around, and have everyone write their sentence down.
