

Knockinaam LODGE

Wine List

Welcome to the Knockinaam Lodge Wine Collection.

We take pride in offering a thoughtfully curated selection of wines from around the world, ranging from classic regions to emerging producers. This list includes fine and rare bottles, many with limited availability. We continually seek new additions to enhance our range and reflect evolving styles and guest preferences.

If you'd like a particular bottle decanted, please let us know in advance.

And remember, as Sir Winston Churchill once said;

"I have taken more out of alcohol, than alcohol has taken out of me."

While we aim to keep our listings up to date, some items may be out of stock or from a different vintage than advertised.
Where possible, we have indicated where a wine is Vegan.
All prices are inclusive of VAT.

Wines By The Glass

Sparkling

Crémant de Bourgogne, Brut Rosé, Louis Bouillot £15.00
Rose pink in colour, with fine bubbles and a light mousse. Perfumes of blackcurrant and strawberry follow through to a fine, ripe fruit on the palate, balanced freshness with a lingering hint of strawberries.

Champagne

Pol Roger, Brut, NV ✓ £21.00
Delicate aromas of brioche, citrus and white flowers lead to a creamy, rounded palate with hints of stone fruit and toast, lifted by fresh, lively acidity and a long, elegant finish.

Pol Roger, Rose, 2016 ✓ £40.00
Delicate pink in colour with fine, persistent bubbles, it offers aromas of wild strawberries, raspberries and rose petals. The palate is fresh and refined leading to a long, graceful finish.

Salon, 2013 £300.00
A prestigious Blanc de Blancs Champagne from Le Mesnil-sur-Oger, showing aromas of white flowers, citrus, and chalky minerality. The palate is rich, precise, and elegant, with baked apple, toasted hazelnut, and a long, mineral-driven finish.

White

Gavi di Gavi, Tenuta Olim Bauda, Piedmont, Italy ✓ £15.00
A crisp and elegant white from Piedmont, showing aromas of green apple, white flowers, and citrus zest. The palate is fresh and vibrant, with bright acidity, delicate minerality, and a clean, lingering finish.

Chateau Ferran Blanc, Grand Vin de Graves, Bordeaux, France ✓ £17.00
A sophisticated white Bordeaux with aromas of citrus, white peach, and subtle floral notes. The palate is round and balanced, showing crisp acidity, gentle oak influence, and a long, mineral-driven finish.

Chablis 1er, 'Les Lys', Vincent Dampt, Burgundy, France ✓ £17.50
A refined, mineral-driven Chablis with delicate floral and citrus aromas. The palate is precise and elegant, showing white peach, chalky minerality, and crisp acidity..

Rioja Blanco, Bodegas Amaren, Alavesa, Spain ✓ £18.00
A richly textured white Rioja, barrel-fermented for added depth and complexity. Aromas of ripe pear, citrus and vanilla lead to a creamy, well-balanced palate with subtle notes of spice and toasted oak, finishing fresh and elegant.

Sauvignon Blanc, Cloudy Bay, Marlborough, New Zealand £20.00
An iconic New Zealand Sauvignon Blanc bursting with aromas of passion fruit, lime and fresh herbs. The palate is vibrant and zesty, showing layers of tropical fruit, citrus and minerality, with a crisp, refreshing finish.

Chenin Blanc 'The FMC', Ken Forrester, Stellenbosch, South Africa ✓ £25.00
Hand selected Chenin Blanc primarily from low yielding, old bush vines. Rich, layered with dried apricot, vanilla and honey.

Rosé

Pétale de Rose, Château la Tour de l'Evêque, Côtes de Provence, France ✓ £12.00

A delicate Provence rosé with aromas of wild strawberry, rose petals, and citrus blossom. The palate is fresh and elegant, displaying red berry fruit, subtle herbal notes, and a crisp, refreshing finish.

Red

Château Picque Caillou, Grand Vin de Graves, Bordeaux, France £13.50

A refined red Bordeaux from Graves, offering aromas of blackcurrant, cherry, and subtle spice. The palate is elegant and structured, with ripe dark fruit, soft tannins, and a long, mineral-driven finish.

Rioja Reserva, Luis Cañas, Rioja Alavesa, Spain ✓ £15.00

A classic Rioja Reserva with aromas of ripe red berries, vanilla, and spice. The palate is well-balanced and complex, showing soft tannins, layered fruit, hints of oak, and a long, elegant finish.

Malbec, 'Tigerstone', Estancia Los Cardones, Salta, Argentina ✓ £16.00

This is a brilliant Malbec with a nose packed full of blueberry and blackcurrants. The palate is rich and juicy yet shows a lovely complexity. Plums and more of that lovely black fruit rounds off this harmonious and delicious wine.

PSI, Peter Sisseck, Ribera del Duero, Spain ✓ £17.00

A powerful yet elegant red from Ribera del Duero, offering aromas of black cherry, plum, and subtle spice. The palate is rich and structured, with ripe dark fruit, fine-grained tannins, and a long, expressive finish.

Grenache/Syrah, 'The Gypsy', Ken Forrester, Stellenbosh, South Africa £23.00

A vibrant Grenache/Syrah blend with aromas of ripe red berries, plum, and subtle spice. The palate is juicy and approachable, showing soft tannins, bright fruit, and a smooth, lingering finish.

Rully 1er, 'Clos du Chapitre', Jager-Defaix, Burgundy, France ✓ £24.00

Barrel aged in oak, this Pinot Noir is intensely perfumed with lifted savoury notes interlaced with dark cherries, plum and cracked black pepper. The tannins are soft and silky, layered with plush, ripe red fruits, with a smooth elegant finish.

POL ROGER

Pol Roger has been celebrated for over a century as one of Champagne's most refined and consistently excellent houses. Famously, Sir Winston Churchill, a former guest at Knockinham Lodge, declared: "In victory, I deserve it. In defeat, I need it." His Champagne of choice? Pol Roger, which he reportedly enjoyed daily. In tribute to his enduring legacy, the house created the exceptional Cuvée Sir Winston Churchill, a bold and complex Champagne reserved for moments of true celebration.

We are proud to feature Pol Roger as our house Champagne, offering their full range for guests to explore from the elegant Brut Réserve to the delicate and refined Vintage Rosé, and of course the prestigious Cuvée Sir Winston Churchill. Each bottle reflects the house's commitment to balance, finesse, and the art of Champagne-making, crafted from the finest Grand Cru and Premier Cru vineyards.

Champagne

There's nothing quite like the sound of a Champagne cork to stir the senses—an unmistakable prelude to celebration. Born from the unique convergence of soil, climate, and centuries of winemaking mastery, Champagne remains the standard by which all sparkling wine is judged.

Sparkling Wine

Prosecco

Fresh, vibrant, and effortlessly enjoyable, Prosecco offers a lighter take on sparkling wine. Made mainly from the Glera grape in northern Italy, its bright fruit and floral notes make it perfect for aperitifs or casual celebrations. Less complex than Champagne, but full of charm.

Fiol 	Extra Dry	£55.00

Crémant

Crémant delivers elegance and complexity with a distinctly regional character. Made in the traditional method like Champagne, but from areas such as Alsace and the Loire, these wines offer refined bubbles, fresh acidity, and expressive style; an excellent choice for those seeking something a little different.

Tissot-Maire 	Blanc de Noirs	Crémant du Jura	£50.00
Louis Bouillot Rosé	Brut	Crémant de Bourgogne	£65.00

English Wine

English wines are recognised for their elegance, freshness, and distinctive sense of place. Benefiting from a cool climate and chalk-rich soils, vineyards across the country produce everything from vibrant sparkling wines to crisp whites and refined still rosés and reds. Expressive and beautifully balanced, English wines offer a unique and increasingly exciting category to explore.

Alsace

Tucked between the Vosges Mountains and the Rhine, Alsace produces wines of remarkable clarity and character. A patchwork of soils and a long, cool growing season give rise to expressive, aromatic whites; most notably Riesling, Gewurztraminer, and Pinot Gris; that reflect the region's rich winemaking tradition and diverse terroir.

Rhône Valley

Northern Rhône

Characterised by its steep, terraced vineyards and cooler climate, the Northern Rhône is the spiritual home of Syrah. Here, Syrah produces deep, refined reds with signature notes of black fruit, pepper, and spice. Whites; made from Viognier, Marsanne, and Roussanne are richly textured and aromatic, ranging from floral and lifted to complex and age-worthy. The region includes prestigious appellations like Côte-Rôtie, Hermitage, and Condrieu.

Ermitage	1999	Le Pavillon	Maison M. Chapoutier	£320.00

Southern Rhône

Further south, the landscape opens into rolling plains and a warmer, Mediterranean climate. Grenache is the dominant grape, often blended with Syrah, Mourvèdre, and others to create bold, sun-drenched reds with generous fruit and spice. Whites and rosés are also produced, known for their freshness and aromatic appeal. The Southern Rhône includes renowned appellations such as Châteauneuf-du-Pape, Gigondas, and Vacqueyras.

Burgundy - White

Made almost exclusively from Chardonnay, showcases some of the most refined and expressive white wines in the world. From the steely, mineral precision of Chablis to the layered, elegant whites of the Côte de Beaune, and the richer, more approachable styles of the Chalonnais and Mâconnais, the region offers remarkable diversity. Climate, aspect, and soil play a defining role, shaping wines that range from racy and taut to generous and age-worthy—all united by a deep sense of place.

Burgundy - Red

Crafted from Pinot Noir, Red Burgundy is the benchmark for elegance and finesse in red wine. Its pale hue often belies remarkable depth, with flavours ranging from delicate red berries and florals to earth, spice, and forest floor. From the structured, age-worthy wines of the Côte de Nuits to the softer, more supple styles of the Côte de Beaune and beyond, these wines reflect their terroir with striking precision. Subtle, complex, and endlessly expressive, Red Burgundy rewards both patience and curiosity.

Beaujolais

South of Burgundy, Beaujolais is defined by its granite-rich soils, which bring unexpected depth and character to the Gamay grape. This is a region of vibrant, expressive reds, ranging from the light, juicy charm of wines like Régnié to the structure and complexity of Crus such as Juliéna. With ten distinct Crus, each offering its own personality, Beaujolais is far more than just a simple, early-drinking red.

Jura

Tucked between Burgundy and the Alps, Jura is a small but distinctive region gaining well-deserved attention for its unique wines and striking alpine terroir. Indigenous varieties like Poulsard, Trousseau, and the aromatic Savagnin define the local style—ranging from delicate reds to oxidative whites. Most famous is Vin Jaune, an age-worthy, nutty wine made from Savagnin, aged under flor-like yeast and rooted in centuries of tradition.

South of France

Stretching from the Spanish border to the Italian coast, the South of France encompasses a vast and diverse winemaking landscape. Languedoc-Roussillon, once known for bulk production, now offers some of France's most exciting and best-value wines, from bold reds to crisp whites and characterful blends. To the west, the scattered appellations of Southwest France reflect a mix of influences; from Bordeaux to Spain, producing distinctive wines from native and international varieties. In Provence, sun-drenched vineyards and Mediterranean breezes shape France's most iconic rosés, alongside structured reds and perfumed whites. Across the region, varied soils, grape varieties, and climates create wines full of personality, charm, and regional character.

Bordeaux - Médoc

Haut Médoc

Located on the left bank of the Gironde, the Haut-Médoc is home to many of Bordeaux's most celebrated estates. Its patchwork of gravelly topsoil over clay, chalk, and limestone provides ideal drainage and vine health—crucial for producing structured, age-worthy reds. Only wines grown on these classic terroirs qualify for the appellation, with those on more fertile, river-adjacent soils excluded. Cabernet Sauvignon dominates, lending power, depth, and longevity to the region's wines.

Red

Château Saint-Aubin	2020	Fernandez de Castro	£60.00
Château Lamothe-Cissac	2020	Cru Bourgeois	£67.00
Château Dutruch	2016	Grand Poujeaux	£85.00

Margaux

The southernmost commune of the Haut-Médoc, Margaux is known for producing some of the most refined and perfumed wines in Bordeaux. Its notably light, gravelly soils contribute to a style marked by elegance, silky texture, and aromatic complexity. Margaux wines are intense yet graceful, often considered the most delicate expression of the Left Bank.

Red

Corney & Barrow Margaux	2021	Chât. D'Angludet	£90.00
Château Soussans	2020	Chât. Deyrem Valentin	£110.00

Saint-Estèphe

The most northerly of the Médoc appellations, Saint-Estèphe is known for its deeply coloured, robust wines with firm structure and impressive longevity. Often slower to mature, these are some of the most age-worthy wines in Bordeaux, offering powerful tannins and earthy complexity that evolve beautifully over time.

Saint-Julien

Set on a gravel-rich plateau along the Gironde, Saint-Julien is one of Bordeaux's most consistent and well-regarded appellations, home to numerous Second, Third, and Fourth Growths. Its wines strike a fine balance between the elegance of Margaux and the structure of Pauillac; refined, harmonious, and reliably age-worthy.

Bordeaux - Right Bank

Côtes de Castillon

East of Saint-Émilion, this hilly, picturesque region produces wines known for their consistency, value, and character. The reds are firm and full-bodied, with deep colour, dense fruit, and a touch of finesse—often echoing the style of their more famous neighbours at a more approachable price.

Red

L'Aurage 	2021	Mitjavile	£114.00

Pomerol

Unclassified but unquestionably revered, Pomerol is a Right Bank gem known for its rich, velvety Merlot-based wines. The region's diverse soils: from gravel and clay to the famed blue clay, create striking stylistic variation, proving terroir's crucial role. At the top sit legends like Pétrus and Le Pin, with estates like Trotanoy following close behind, all offering dense fruit, supple tannins, and luxurious texture.

Saint-Émilion

Surrounding one of France's most beautiful medieval towns, the vineyards of Saint-Émilion are set across a patchwork of limestone, clay, and gravel soils. Despite this diversity, the wines share a common thread; lush, ripe fruit, soft tannins, and an approachable richness that sets them apart from their more austere Left Bank counterparts. The region follows its own classification system, established in 1955 and regularly revised.

Bordeaux - Graves

Pessac-Léognan

The heart of the Graves, Pessac-Léognan brings together ten top communes and many of the region's most prestigious estates. The reds are soft and polished, with notes of violets, dark fruit, and a signature smoky edge from new oak aging. Elegant yet concentrated, they offer both charm and depth, often with a touch of tobacco and graphite typical of the terroir.

Italy

Central & Northern

Northern and Central Italy showcase a rich variety of wine styles shaped by diverse climates and traditions. In the North, Nebbiolo reigns in Piedmont, producing age-worthy wines like Barolo and Barbaresco, while alpine regions like Trentino-Alto Adige and Friuli excel in crisp whites and elegant reds. Central Italy is the heartland of Sangiovese, the grape behind icons like Chianti Classico and Brunello di Montalcino. While red wines dominate, whites such as Cortese in the North and Verdicchio in the Centre add freshness and finesse to this vibrant winemaking landscape.

South & Islands

Hot, hilly, and rich in volcanic soils, Southern Italy and its islands have a long winemaking history. Though once known for overproduction, the region has seen a revival thanks to skilled winemakers harnessing native varieties. From the bold reds of Aglianico in Campania to the vibrant Nero d'Avola of Sicily, the South now produces expressive, characterful wines that showcase its unique terroirs and renewed quality focus.

Austria

Once seen as a winemaking extension of Germany, Austria has firmly established its own identity in recent years. The country is best known for Grüner Veltliner, a grape that produces vibrant, food-friendly wines often marked by a distinctive peppery kick. With a focus on quality and precision, Austria's wines now stand confidently on the world stage.

Hungary

Hungary is one of only two European countries with its own word for wine, bor, a sign of its ancient winemaking heritage. With 22 wine regions and a rich diversity of microclimates, Hungary produces an impressive range of styles. At the heart of its reputation is Furmint, the star grape of Tokaji, known for wines that rival the world's best.

Spain

With a winemaking history stretching back to ancient times, Spain has the largest vineyard area in the world. Its wines range widely in style and character, with Rioja known for its fruity reds and signature oak influence. In Catalonia, powerful, deeply coloured reds can rival the best of Rioja, reflecting the region's bold and sun-soaked character.

South Africa

South Africa's vineyards enjoy a Mediterranean climate, with warm, dry summers and cooling influences from the ocean and mountain breezes, particularly in regions like Stellenbosch and Walker Bay. This combination of warm days and cool nights, allows grapes to ripen fully while preserving acidity and aromatics. The result is a diverse range of high-quality wines, from structured Cabernet Sauvignon and Syrah to crisp Chenin Blanc and elegant Chardonnay.

Australia

While bulk wine still plays a role in Australia's wine economy, the focus has shifted steadily toward higher quality. Regional blending remains common, with labels often emphasizing grape variety over origin, and the winemaker's name offering the clearest guide. Shiraz has long been the flagship red; rich, soft, and peppery, but Cabernet Sauvignon has risen in prominence. The overall style favours ripe, fruit-forward wines with smooth tannins and moderate acidity, appealing to a broad range of palates.
